The Mind with a Thousand Faces 2021-04-17 the lives and careers of Warner Brothers screen legends Joan Blondell, Nancy Coleman, Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland, Glenda Farrell, Kay Francis, Ruby Keeler, Andrea King, Priscilla Lane, Joan Leslie, Ida Lupino, Eleanor Parker, Ann Sheridan, Alexis Smith and Jane Wyman are the topic of this book. Some achieved great success in film and other areas of show business but others failed to get the breaks or became victims of the studio system's sometimes unpleasant brand of politics, the personal and professional obstacles that each actress encountered are here set out in detail, often with comments from the actresses who granted interviews with the author and from those people who knew them best on and off the movie set. A filmography is included for each of the fifteen

□□□□□□□□ 2008-10 The Addict with a Thousand Faces is an adventurous memoir of Jacob O'Connell's heroic journey of transformation. Unbound, he travels from the safety of the suburbs to the unknown world of Peru and the Amazon jungle in hopes to navigate the polarity of good and evil within. Along the way, he makes frequent visits to mental hospitals and drug rehabs but his will to live in freedom is ever present. Jacob gives a voice to the inner forces that help and haunt him while that voice attempts to coax him into a life of decadence. The old man stands by his side, armed to guide him toward liberation. His story of drug addiction, recovery and the hero's journey highlights what it means to be a human struggling to get out of his own way and learn the lessons that darkness has to teach. The Addict with a Thousand Faces captures the author's raw determination like lightning in a bottle on display for all to see. The gripping narrative will keep you enthralled and play with your emotions, enhanced by questions for group discussion. The book also serves as a workbook, a tool for healing and communication about drug addiction, recovery and the human condition.

Goddess with a Thousand Faces 2024 Heroines in History: A Thousand Faces moves beyond stories of individual heroines, taking a thematic, synthesising and global in scope approach to challenge previous understandings of heroines in history, responding to Joseph Campbell's hero with a thousand faces. Katie Pickles explores the idea of a transcultural heroine archetype that recurs through time. Each chapter addresses an archetypal theme important for heroines in history. The volume offers a new consideration of the often awkward position of women in history and embeds heroines in the context of their times, as well as interpreting and analysing how their stories are told, re-told and represented at different moments. To do so, it recovers and compares some women now forgotten, as well as well-known recent heroines and brings together a diversity of women from around the world. Pickles looks at the interplay of gender, race, heredity, status, class and politics in different ways and chronicles the emergence of heroines as historical subjects valued for their substance and achievements rather than as objects valued for their image and celebrity. In an accessible and original way, the book builds upon developments in women's and gender history and is essential reading for anyone interested in this field.

A Thousand Faces 2014 this collection first published in 1992 offers critical interpretive essays on various aspects of the work of Joseph Campbell. In 1904-1987, one of a very few international experts on myth, Joseph Campbell examines myths and mythologies from a comparative point of view and he stresses those similarities among myths the world over as they suggest an existing transcendent unity of all humankind. His interpretations foster an openness, even a generous appreciation of all myths and he attempts to generate a broad sympathetic understanding of the role of these stories in human history in our present day lives and in the possibilities of our future.

Study Guide 2012 The Heavens and Earth are the Army, I am the General. Hong Yu is the official and I am the King. The heaven and earth the determinant of destiny. A heaven's pride level expert of this era had to bear the blessing of the five gods, changing his fate in a way that defied the will of the heavens. In the blink of an eye, the world had been turned upside down. Hot blood is eternal passion. In all directions, fight with me to the sky. Fight.

The Thousand Faces of Night 2012-12-06 these letters reveal the thoughts of two fine, strong minds drawn to each other first by their interest in socialism, then by their love of poetry and a similarity of ethics and ideals. My mother recognized this in his early prose and poetry. They learned so much about each other from these letters yet it seems extraordinary that there was so little personal contact from the introduction by Margaret Sandburg.
