the book's central proposition is that the prominent feature of the hieroglyphic script which Egyptologists call determinatives makes up an elaborate system of classifiers all items of the lexicon take motivated pictorial classifiers by this device the script reflects the map of knowledge organization of ancient Egyptian culture the book aims to reveal the principles and constraints governing the codification of the ancient Egyptian universe in this system there is to date no comprehensive study either in Egyptology or in cognitive linguistics of the hieroglyphic classifiers as a structured system the present work attempts to fill the existing hiatus by bridging the disciplines of Egyptology and cognitive studies using the tools of the latter to elucidate the former and thus perhaps arrive at new perspectives on both from the Egyptological angle the book deals with the ancient Egyptians' nomenclature for items in the world and the relationship between lexicon and the knowledge organization however the events occurring in the picture script render cognitive processes visible to our inspection hundreds of years before they have ripened into the Egyptian language this visibility bears directly on a number of crucial questions in cognitive linguistics and ethnobiology the book also includes an introduction to the hieroglyphic script excerpt from popular literature in ancient egypt for many centuries past and until recently the civilised world was accustomed to regard the ancient egyptians as a people leading a monotonous and joyless life unrippled by any passing breeze of ordinary human pleasure and with minds entirely absorbed in meditations on death or in deep religious and philosophical speculations it was indebted for this picture in the first place to the allusions made by greek authors to the wisdom of the egyptians while the austerity of egyptian plastic representations of gods and men and the vital significance ascribed by this people to all rites and worship connected with the dead pointed to the same conclusion this view of the matter was confirmed by the tone of the pompous royal inscriptions and almost exclusively religious texts which were the earliest results of the deciphering of egyptian writing about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
