discuss the events that shaped each historical period this volume reflects on the role played by textbooks in the complex relationship between war and education from a historical and multinational perspective asking how textbook content and production can play a part in these processes it has long been established that history textbooks play a key role in shaping the next generation s understanding of both past events and the concept of friend and foe considering both current and historical textbooks often through a bi national comparative approach the editors and contributors investigate various important aspects of the relationships between textbooks and war including the role wars play in the creation of national identities whether the country is on the winning or losing side the effacement of international wars to highlight a country s exceptionalism or the obscuring of intra national conflict through the ways in which a civil war is portrayed this pioneering book will be of interest and value to students and scholars of textbooks educational media and the relationships between curricula and war approx 321 pages peacebuilding and reconciliation between groups and entire nations that share a violent past are among the toughest yet most important challenges for modern societies opposing perspectives disagreements about the interpretation of historical events or even entirely different narratives too often impede processes of rapprochement how can teaching history contribute to overcoming the demarcation lines of such narratives and resolving historical conflicts that are passed on from generation to generation or renewed amplified and exploited for present political purposes this volume comprises twelve case studies from central and eastern europe to south africa from the middle east to east asia exploring stories about successes and failures in the never ending struggle for peaceful coexistence all of them ultimately reflect the fundamental question of our discipline can we learn from history this volume examines the present status and future trends of textbook studies cutting edge essays by leading experts and emerging scholars explore the field s theories methodologies and topics with the goal of generating debate and providing new perspectives the georg eckert institute s unique transdisciplinary focus on international textbook research has shaped this handbook which explores the history of the discipline the production processes and contexts that influence textbooks the concepts they incorporate how this medium itself is received and future trends the book maps and discusses approaches based in cultural studies as well as in the social and educational sciences in addition to contemporary methodologies used in the field the book aims to become the central interdisciplinary reference for textbook researchers students and educational practitioners this book provides an in depth account of the protests that shook france in 1968 and which served as a catalyst to a radical reconsideration of artistic practice that has shaped both art and museum exhibitions up to the present rebecca deeroo examines how issues of historical and personal memory the separation of public and private domains and the ordinary objects of everyday life emerged as central concerns for museums and for artists as both struggled to respond to the protests she argues that the responses of the museums were only partially faithful to the aims of the activist movements museums in fact often misunderstood and misrepresented the work of artists that was exhibited as a means of addressing these concerns analyzing how museums and critics did and did not address the aims of the protests deroo highlights the issues relevant to the politics of the public display of art that have been central to artistic representation in france as well as in north america this book explores how school history textbooks are used to perpetuate nationalistic policies within divided regions exploring the divide and rule politics across ex yugoslav successor states the editors and contributors draw upon a wide range of case studies from across the region textbooks and other educational media provide the foundations upon which the new generation build understanding about their own context and the events that are creating their present by promoting nationalistic politics in such media textbooks themselves can be used as tools to further promote and preserve ongoing hostility between ethnic groups following periods of conflict this edited collection will appeal to scholars of educational media history education and post conflict societies language students learn best when given the opportunity to communicate meaningful content in realistic settings see how technology can help this volume brings together important theoretical methodological issues currently being debated in the field of history of education the contributions shed insightful and critical light on the historiography of education on issues of de colonization on the historical development of the educational sciences and on the potentiality attached to the use of new and challenging source material echoing events questions the perpetuation actualization and canonization of national narratives in english and dutch history textbooks wide reaching media that tendentially inspire a sense of meaning memory and thus also identity the longitudinal study begins in the 1920s when the league of nations launched several initiatives to reduce strong nationalistic visions in textbooks and ends in the new millennium with the revival of national narratives in both countries the analysis shows how and why textbook authors have narrated different histories which vary in terms of context epoch and place as echoing events by using recurring plots and the same combinations of historical analogies this innovative and original study thus investigates from a new angle the resistance of national narratives to change the decolonization of algeria represents a turning point in world history marking the end of france s colonial empire the birth of the algerian republic and the appearance of the third world and pan arabism algeria emerged from colonial domination to negotiate the release of american hostages in iran during the carter administration radical islam would later rise from the ashes of algeria s failed democracy leading to a civil war and the training of algerian terrorists in africa moreover the decolonization of algeria offered an imperfect model of decolonization to other nations like south africa that succeeded in abolishing apartheid while retaining its white settler population algeria and its war of national liberation therefore constitute an inescapable reference for those looking to understand today s war on terror and ever expanding islamophobia in western media circuits consequently it is imperative that students and educators understand the global implications of the algerian war and how to best approach this conflict in school and at home so as to learn from the consequences of misrepresentation at all levels of the memory transmission chain these objectives are all the more important today given the west s misunderstanding and mischaracterization of islam the arab spring the muslim majority world and most importantly the continuing influence of french colonialism especially in the postcolonial era conceived as a case study the algerian war in french language comics postcolonial memory history and subjectivity argues that comics provide an alternative to textbook representations of the algerian war in france because they draw from many of the same source materials yet produce narratives that are significantly different this book demonstrates that although comics rely on conventional vectors of memory transmission like national education the family and mainstream media they can also create new and productive dialogues using these same vectors in ways unavailable to traditional textbooks from this perspective these comics are an effective and alternative way to in an age of authorless contextless deconstructed texts Francis Noël Thomas argues that it is time to re-examine a fundamental but neglected concept of literature writing is an action whose agent is an individual addressing both general readers and scholars Thomas offers two cases Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan and Marcel Proust's À la recherche du temps perdu read against the background of the authors' large eccentric and surprisingly similar claims about their texts as acts he examines what happens in literature we take these claims seriously enough to find out why the authors made them in the first place and what bearing they have on the texts themselves originally published in 1993 the princeton legacy library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of princeton university press these editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions the goal of the princeton legacy library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by princeton university press since its founding in 1905 ce livre n est pas un manuel de physiologie de l exercice classique mais une nouvelle perspective de ce concept que nous avons soumis à l épreuve du temps afin de découvrir cette nouvelle vision de o2max il débouche sur de nouvelles théories d entraînement dont l efficacité est prouvée au plan scientifique et applicatif afin de vous permettre de bénéficier de telles avancées sans être contraints par les délais de publications scientifiques 1 à 2 ans surtout pour l innovation nous avons décidé suite à la troisième éditions récemment paru du désormais classique bases physiologiques de l entraînement sportif de vous donner les points essentiels de nos récentes découvertes les plus marquantes myth identity and conflict a comparative analysis of romanian and serbian textbooks by anamaria dutceac segesten is an examination of how history and politics became entangled in romania and serbia segeste
