postcolonial intellectuals have engaged with and deeply impacted upon european society since the figure of the intellectual emerged at the beginning of the nineteenth century yet a critical assessment and overview of their influential roles is long overdue particularly in the light of contemporary debates in europe and beyond this book offers an innovative take on the role of intellectuals in europe through a postcolonial lens and in doing so questions the very definition of public intellectual on the one hand and the meaning of such a thing as europe on the other it does so not only by offering portraits of charismatic figures such as stuart hall jacques derrida antonio gramsci frantz fanon and hannah arendt among others but also by exploring their lasting legacies and the many dialogues they have generated the notion of the classic intellectual is further challenged by bringing to the fore artists writers and activists as well as social movements networks and new forms of mobilization and collective engagement that are part of the intellectual scene do you think you could teach rock hudson to talk like you do the question came from famed hollywood director george stevens and an affirmative answer propelled bob hinkle into a fifty year career in hollywood as a speech coach actor producer director and friend to the stars along the way hinkle helped rock hudson dennis hopper carroll baker and mercedes mccambridge talk like texans for the 1956 epic film giant he also helped create the character jett rink with james dean who became a best friend and he consoled elizabeth taylor personally when dean was killed in a tragic car accident before the film was released a few years later paul newman asked hinkle to do for him what he d done for james dean the result was newman s powerful portrayal of a texas no good in the academy award winning film hud 1963 hinkle could and did stop by the lbj ranch to exchange pleasantries with the president of the united states he did likewise with elvis presley at graceland good friends with robert wagner hinkle even taught wagner s wife natalie wood how to throw a rope he appeared in numerous television series including gunsmoke bonanza dragnet and walker texas ranger on a handshake he worked as country music legend marty robbins s manager and he helped evel knievel rise to fame from his birth in brownfield texas to a family so poor they could only afford a tumbleweed as a pet hinkle went on to gain acclaim in hollywood through it all he remained the salty down to earth former rodeo cowboy from west texas who could talk his way into or out of most any situation more than forty photographs including rare behind the scenes glimpses of the stars hinkle met and befriended along the way complement this rousing never dull memoir recent developments in various omics fields have revolutionized our understanding of the vast diversity and ubiquity of microbes in the biosphere however most of the current paradigms of microbial cell biology and our view of how microbes live and what they are capable of are derived from in vitro experiments on isolated strains even the co culturing of mixed species to interrogate community behavior is relatively new but the majority of microorganisms lives in complex communities in natural environments under varying conditions and often cannot be cultivated unless we obtain a detailed understanding of the near native 3d ultrastructure of individual community members the 3d spatial community organization their metabolic interdependences coordinated gene expression and the spatial organization of their macromolecular machines inventories as well as their communication strategies we won t be able to truly understand microbial community life how spatial and also temporal organization in cell cell interactions are achieved remains largely elusive for example a key question in microbial ecology is what mechanisms microbes employ to respond when faced with prey competitors or predators and changes in external factors specifically to what degree do bacterial cells in biofilms act individually or with coordinated responses what are the spatial extent and coherence of coordinated responses in addition networks linking organisms across a dynamic range of physical constraints and connections should provide the basis for linked evolutionary changes under pressure from a changing environment therefore we need to investigate microbial responses to altered or adverse environmental conditions including phages predators and competitors and their macromolecular metabolic responses according to their spatial organization we envision a diverse set of tools including optical spectroscopical chemical and ultrastructural imaging techniques that will be utilized to address questions regarding e g intra and inter organism interactions linked to ultrastructure and correlated adaptive responses in gene expression physiological and metabolic states as a consequence of the alterations of their environment clearly strategies for co evolution and in general the display of adaptive strategies of a microbial network as a response to the altered environment are of high interest while a special focus will be placed on terrestrial sole species or mixed biofilms we are also interested in aquatic systems biofilms in general and microbes living in symbiosis in this research topic we wish to summarize and review results investigating interactions and possibly networks between microbes of the same or different species their co occurrence as well as spatiotemporal patterns of distribution our goal is to include a broad spectrum of experimental and theoretical contributions from research and review articles to hypothesis and theory aiming at understanding microbial interactions at a systems level
