The Journal of Pediatric Neurosurgery, established in 1974, is a peer-reviewed journal that publishes new information and observations in pediatric neurosurgery, neurology, neuroradiology, and neuropathology. The focus is on the etiology of neurological diseases, the operative care of affected patients, and outcomes research. Recent comprehensive meta-analyses have revealed a stark disparity in the prevalence and impact of pediatric traumatic spinal cord injury (TSCI) with low and middle income countries (LMICs) facing a disproportionately higher burden than their high income counterparts. This book, published by the International Society for Pediatric Neurosurgery (ISPN), documents the state of the art in pediatric neurosurgery with the intention of providing a
