first published in 1997 routledge is an imprint of taylor francis an informa company part of the managing colleges effectively series this text is aimed at governors managers and other non financial staff at all levels of further education institutions who possess financial resource management responsibilities as part of their jobs this book offers unique insights into the impact of the rise of a managerialist culture in further adult and vocational education fave in england it will also raise awareness of the consequences of the imposition of top down models of educational change and improvement upon the practices of educational leaders middle and senior managers and policy professionals across the fave sector the overall aim of this book is to understand the language policies values and approaches currently espoused in post 16 learning often these are driven by or measured by technical rational approaches which can have a negative impact on individuals working in the sector lead to a narrowing of the curriculum and range of assessment opportunities and do not support student progression the authors propose tentative researched and evidence based suggestions for new ways of working which might ultimately have a significant benefit to post 16 learning the book will appeal to those engaged in researching education either as academics policy makers trainees or practitioners who are interested in ways of reflecting on researching into and improving practice in 2001 the newly established learning and skills council the council took over a programme of capital works in the further education sector to renew an estate that was too large with much of it in poor condition and no longer fit for modern educational purposes by march 2008 a total of 4.2 billion of projects had been approved in detail including grant support from the council of 1.7 billion and about half of the estate had been renewed since april 2008 there has been a very serious failure in the management of the programme it approved in principle 79 colleges projects which required nearly 2.7 billion of council funding more than it could afford before the current problems arose the programme had achieved some successes enabling the estate to be reduced in size and the buildings are generally of good quality and are contributing to increased learner participation the economic downturn could affect colleges ability to fund projects by restricting their access to loan finance or their ability to sell surplus assets the indebtedness of the sector is rising the council needs to monitor closely the financial health of some colleges particularly those that have borrowings that exceed 40 per cent of their annual income in 2010 the council is expected to be dissolved and its functions taken over by the skills funding agency and the young people s learning agency there needs to be clarity about responsibilities for the capital programme and additional administrative burdens on colleges must be avoided features information on studying at postgraduate level in the uk what is involved what opportunities there are lists details 75 million of funding available to postgraduate
