code of judicial conduct minefields in the marketplace takes a compelling look at six ethical minefields in which many christian businessmen and women get caught ethical compromise materialism dealing with power sexual temptation neglected relationships spiritual stagnation author james pearson says he has seen one or more of these bring a well meaning christian down careers ruined reputations lost and marriages destroyed for readers who want to succeed in business and still serve their lord and savior this book provides the spiritual wisdom guidance and direction necessary for getting safely through the minefields it is hardly news that a growing number of people want to step back from the brink of western consumerism and find a way to live an all round cleaner existence one that is not only easier on the physical body but one that is lighter on the conscience too so how do we go about it most people fight shy of giving up their cars or their toxic household products their cheap washing machines or dodgy unethical bank accounts in order to make the world a better place so leo hickman resident consumer expert of the guardian decides that he will give up all these things instead and report back on whether it is possible to live a life that is western but aware leo is your average male consumer with a young family and a job he commutes to he is no green warrior and an innocent abroad when it comes to ethical living he is not going to preach and he may have a few problems persuading even his wife and baby to give it a try but he comes to this experiment with vigour giving armed servicemen and women the task of civilizing those parts of the world which have deteriorated into anarchy and bloodshed ethic cleansing or genocide is to give them a moral rule far beyond what the laws of war can currently refine the problems of military ethics a moral philosophy for the armed forces are addressed in this book by rt hon paddy ashdown mp dr michael ignatieff professor adam roberts oxford university brigadier loup francart retired french army major general paul mccarthy retired us air force general sir rupert smith dsaceur and patrick mileham retired british army the conclusions reached make this a significant contribution to the debate on military ethics in the present age legal representation of an organization is rarely as straightforward as representing a single person the client in such cases is a construct a legal fiction that often operates through many individuals with different roles views and interests and therefore requires an attorney to consider any number of special professional responsibility issues this is the first book to practically address ethics within the special contest of representing entities provided by publisher with recent developments in the evaluation field such as privatization and mandated outcome focused evaluation evaluators today face new and complex ethical challenges regarding stakeholders the public good and utility this volume of new directions for evaluation explores how evaluators can avoid reduce or resolve the ethical conflicts that arise the authors offer a cost benefit approach to exploring the ethics of various research designs and make recommendations for achieving a balance between neutrality and advocacy they shed light on the ethical challenges evaluators face when collaborating with foundations and communities working in a culture different from their own and determining the nature of stakeholder involvement this is the 82nd issue of the quarterly journal new directions for evaluation medical law and ethics provides coverage of the major topics of medical law and ethics combining detailed legal exposition and analysis with moral theory and philosophy this book considers the wider contextual pressures facing the law such as the impact of market forces and patient consumerism political interests medical and professional interests changing perceptions of of interest to ethicists policy makers managers and lawyers this new edition is a practical introduction to the ethical questions that doctors and other health professionals are likely to encounter during their working lives journalism ethics goes to the movies poses urgent questions about journalism ethics and offers candid answers as the title suggests the authors some of the nation s leading journalism scholars investigate popular movies to illustrate the kind of ethical dilemmas journalists encounter on the job resulting in a student friendly book sure to spark interest and stimulate thinking at a time when experts and the public alike worry that journalism has lost its way here s a book that can provide much needed accessible guidance the premise of this book was to offer a functional perspective on the basic elements and some of the major issues of mass communication as it pertains to this country sixteen trends their profound impact on our future highlighting key factors which are destined to reshape the world marx is quick to identify how each of these trends will influence educational policy in various ways with improving academic achievement for all students as the main goal sixteen trends provides an enlightened look into the learning processes of the children of tomorrow some of the many issues discussed within its contents include the shift in population demographics and its role in life long learning the need for school curriculum and practices to reflect the dawning of the information age the importance of equilibrium and acceptance of divergent viewpoints in preparing for emerging generations how continuous improvement will replace quick fixes and challenge the status quo theory of education why the globalization of politics and the economy today will mandate the need for interdependence in educational practice when asked about the importance of his book sixteen trends author gary marx states linear goals are not enough looking at tomorrow and seeing it only as a little bit more or a little bit less of today just won t cut it as we move into the future surrounded by a world filled with discontinuities we desperately need to set at least a few audacious goals the kind that took us to the moon and planets reduced computers from a dozen racks of equipment to a single hand held device and envisioned educational opportunity for all much of what happens as we break ground on the future will come at us out of the blue we are in a constant unrelenting and exciting race to lay the groundwork for an even brighter future for our children and ourselves we at ers are pleased to bring you the latest in marx s groundbreaking series according to ers president dr john forsyth gary marx s work provides an impetus for our educational community the ability for ers to share the information contained within sixteen trends is a positive and progressive step in ensuring that we are well prepared in today s educational system for what the future holds increasing demands on acute hospital resources together with a reduction in the number of available beds has placed a greater emphasis on the need for rapid and effective assessment of patients in order to determine their need for hospital admission this has led to the widespread emergence of the specialist medical assessment unit mau this timely book provides an up to date guide to the assessment and immediate management of patients with acute medical conditions it presents a structured approach based on common presenting features and focuses on the first twenty four hours of the patient s stay in hospital in writing this book the editors have been able to draw on their own clinical experiences as a charge nurse in accident and emergency
