consumer identity in multicultural america presents strategies and tools for marketers seeking to reach these emerging subcultures chapter 1 introduces the phenomenon of multiculturalism in america and its impact on marketing chapter 2 introduces the seven key shifts from traditional thinking that marketers must make to thrive in a multicultural world e g from market segmentation to market religion and public education is once again a burning issue in the united states prayer in the classroom the teaching of creationism the representation of sexuality in the classroom and the teaching of morals are just a few of the subjects over which these institutions are skirmishing james fraser shows that though these battles have been going on for as long as there have been public schools there has never been any consensus about the proper relationship between religion and public education looking at the most difficult question of how private issues of faith can be reconciled with the very public nature of schooling fraser paints a picture of our multicultural society that takes our relationship with god into account essays on approximately 150 culture groups of the u s from acadians to yupiats covering their history acculturation and assimilation family and community dynamics language and religion in strangers and neighbors andrea m voyer shares five years of observations in the city of lewiston she shows how long time city residents and immigrant newcomers worked to develop an understanding of the inclusive and caring community in which they could all take part yet the sense of community developed in lewiston was built on the appreciation of diversity in the abstract rather than by fostering close and caring relationships across the boundaries of class race culture and religion through her sensitive depictions of the experiences of somalis lewiston city leadership anti racism activists and even racists voyer reveals both the promise of and the obstacles to achieving community in the face of diversity the asian americans focuses on the social history customs and traditions of asian americans across u s history black and white photographs and ethnicity and gender are the guiding categories in the analysis of migration miscegenation and transculturation in cultural contact zones this detailed investigation gives voice to a broad spectrum of writers from native african german jewish chinese and mexican american backgrounds ultimately leading to a reconsideration of the canon of american literature the evolving patterns developed in migration miscegenation transculturation provide a context for the analysis of ethnicity and gender in western societies in the twenty first century the first decades of the new millennium have been marked by major political changes although the west has wished to revisit internal and international politics concerning migration policies refugee status integration secularism and the dismantling of communitarianism events like the syrian refugee crisis the terrorist attacks in france in 2015 2016 and the economic crisis of 2008 have resurrected concepts such as national identity integration citizenship and re shaping state policies in many developed countries in france and canada more recent public elections have brought complex democratic political figures like emmanuel macron and justin trudeau to the public eye both leaders were elected based on their promising political agendas that aimed at bringing their countries into the new millennium trudeau promotes multiculturalism while macron touts the diverse nation and the inclusion of diverse ethnic communities to the national model this edited collection aims to establish a dialogue between these two countries and across disciplines in search of such discursive illustrations and opposing discourses analyzing the cultural and political tensions between minority groups and the state in light of political events that question ideas of citizenship and belonging to a multicultural nation the chapters in this volume serve as a testimonial to the multiple views on the political and public perception of multicultural practices and their national and international applicability to our current geopolitical context
