Christian Lessons and a Christian Life: sermons of S. A. Smith. With a memoir by E. J. Young 1866 that john wesley was not a systematic theologian is a point frequently made yet if that be the case what kind of theologian was he to look at his literary output over the course of his long life and ministry is to recognize the central role that sermons played thus claims michael paquarello wesley was a homiletical theologian one for whom the word preached was the core means of reflecting on and understanding the meaning of the gospel in this preaching life of wesley pasquarello places wesley s sermons in the larger religious political and intellectual world of their eighteenth century context neither a biography nor an intellectual history it is a homiletic history one that both uses the details of wesley s milieu to build a framework for understanding his sermons and that illumines the practical wisdom embodied in the content form and style of wesley s preaching john wesley a preaching life vividly portrays the centrality of wesley s preaching to the religious revival that transformed eighteenth century england

More Sermons for a God Centered Life 2015-06-25 this historic book may have numerous typos and missing text purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher not indexed not illustrated 1893 edition excerpt the world took him as it has taken so many of his choicest treasures through suffering and death into her life and then having come to her and fastened his love upon her he went away from her he set up impracticable standards he lived an apparently impossible life the world was full of war and he preached peace the world was full of pride and he was humble the world was false and he by every word and action said be true the world looking at christ said we never can be that but more and more the world has become that christ first touching it by his love has little by little drawn it on into his character and peace humility and truth are no longer vague dreams but recognized ambitions earnest hopes here and there real attainments among men and so i ask an earnest christian how he began to pray when it first came to seem possible to him that he should forgive his enemy or live in the realized companionship of god and his answer must be christ my lord having bound my life to his life went there first and then drew my life after his i saw him pray i heard him speak forgiveness from the cross i watched his feet treading close to god and because i must be where he was i left the old life and went with him into the new my love to him was first the revealer of the higher possibility and then the power of entrance into it this is what i really understand by being saved by christ s love this is what it means dear friend when always you are urged to love christ so that you may be saved it is not that christ stands jealously and arbitrarily and will not admit you to his privileges until you have certain feelings about him it is that only by loving him can your life be so bound

The Power of Prayer in a Believer's Life 1989 though i was well aware that albert schweitzer preached a great deal both before and after he became a physician i never encountered any of his sermons until i was privileged to read the present collection prior to publication what i find in this increases my sense of wonder though it does not increase my surprise it pleases me to find that like other speakers and writers the famous missionary doctor preached many of his ideas before they were cast into essay form thus following the experimental method on the whole the sermons seem contemporary very early in the twentieth century he understood that christianity is not a merely spiritual religion and that the popular arguments against missions are superficial ones what pleases me most about the new publication is its revelation of the author s deep personal piety d elton trueblood from the foreword

The Battle of Life, and Other Sermons 2009-05 sermons from mind and heart attempts to show the week by week theological work that a pastor does the combining of the intellectual with the emotional is rooted in the categories of logos and pathos from aristotle s rhetoric some of the sermons have substantive theological reflections with multiple sources and are thus heavily footnoted other sermons have no footnotes this doesn t mean that any sermon lacks logos or pathos but that there is an interplay a back and forth of a pastor struggling to communicate the gospel in a this is that way that honors both the then of scripture and the now of contemporary life rhetorical scholarship and methodology are important in understanding the content and the structure of the sermons what matters most is the sense that these sermons are an ongoing theological conversation between the pastor and his congregation sermons after all are meant to be heard and they exist in the moment as authentic rhetorical acts all other versions of the sermon including this written form are only echoes of the primal sermonic experience the rodney kennedy whose sermons i have heard on occasional visits to the first baptist church of dayton is one of today s great preachers his sermons are challenging they provoke reexamination of one s own christian faith and inspire heroic participation in god s work in all spheres of life his sermons are also unfailingly educational kennedy s vast reading and analytical powers give them the power to make listeners think the sermons in this collection which kennedy considers the best of the past eight years should put no one to sleep or leave any reader s life untouched jacob h dorn wright state university a compelling voice with clear congregational accord kennedy s intellectual passion and homiletical prowess shine forth here for those seeking in spirit humble in heart prepare to be startled as one should be in encounter with the word preached kennedy offers nourishment for both preachers and those who make the preaching moment their own in growing lives of discipleship lisa m hess united theological seminary in 2003 the first baptist church of dayton called rodney kennedy to be senior pastor it was a masterstroke a refugee from the fundamentalist captured southern baptist convention with a phd in rhetoric from louisiana state university rod kennedy fits very well the profile of a first baptist church senior pastor as you will see in the sermons that are to come he is a fabulous preacher who cannot be and does not want to be pegged as liberal or as conservative from the foreword by william trollinger and brad kallenberg rodney wallace kennedy lead pastor of first baptist church director of the baptist house of studies and teacher of homiletics and baptist history at united theological seminary in dayton ohio has a doctorate in rhetoric from louisiana state university he has been lead pastor at first baptist church in dayton for eight years he is the author of the creative power of metaphor and the encouraging parent

The Spirit of the Christian Life: Sermons Preached on Various Occasions (1881) 1839 this last small group of bernard s sermons to be published in translation by cistercian publications rightly goes by the title de varii in the critical edition while most of them treat feasts on the church calendar they do so in a somewhat hit or miss fashion three sermons also deal with god s will god s mercies and the gifts of the holy spirit two sermons for the feast of saint victor are a response to a request to bernard from the monks of montiéramey the bollandist life of saint victor appears here as a complement to those sermons besides the nine sermons normally assigned to the de varii this volume also includes a sermon on the feast of saint benedict that was recently added to the collection in sources chrétiennes the survival of this loose assemblage of sermons outside of the organized collections of bernard s sermons provides a reminder of bernard as preacher and writer able despite all his other activities to turn his hand to preaching when called upon while they treat of disparate themes they allow us to encounter the quintessential bernard speaking of the life of desire the true meaning of holiness and the awakening of the spiritual senses in the search for god
