Gender, Family and Work in Naples

2020-08-18

breaking new ground in mediterranean anthropology this book rejects the discipline s traditional focus on honour and shame in small face to face communities and suggests instead that gender and sexuality interact with material processes in the constitution of personal and social identities in this ethnographic account of the labour market in naples the author shows how cultural definitions of gender can be used to investigate broad social processes scarce stable employment in the area means that household members are forced to diversify their economic activities in order to survive petty entrepreneurship is an option which is almost exclusively available to men women who are either unable or unwilling to obtain factory work are generally confined to the status of outworkers the author emphasises that individual choices cannot be attributed solely to economic opportunities but that concepts of selfhood gender identity and the symbolic value of female sexuality are also important the history of european integration did not begin in the aftermath of the 20th century ad only the epilogue of a very long political religious and socio cultural formation process that started with the great adventure of alexander the great and his impromptu universal empire in the centuries that followed europe became a land of immigration of peoples of asian origin and indo european matrix who found themselves on a continent that had emerged from the ice and occupied their own living space people still essentially present today who recognise themselves in europe as an entity that retains its own characteristic identity in political religious and historical cultural terms this book tells the story of the forces and ideas that enabled different gentes to integrate and live together through facts characters thoughts faiths royal dynasties and power struggles the text is conceived with a plural thematic structure that aims to reflect the various european souls and offer each specific interpretation the introduction sets out principles concepts questions but also the philosophical cultural paths along which the overall european culture was formed even if not entirely homogeneous and for long periods dramatically conflicting highlighting the turning milestones of the common continental thought thanks to an oriental and classical philosophical discourse part one on the other hand recounts the history of european events personalities and evolutionary lines with a greek historical approach relating them to the action and function of the empire especially the christian one which over the centuries attracted the various peoples settled in europe and trained them in a model of civilisation and socio political organisation still visible today in every corner of the continent the formation of the european states and nations now included in the eu is thus the product of the budding of the empire over two thousand years part two examines the evolution of european legal and political thought using the method of roman jurist treatises following the development of the function of auctoritas from its first configuration in the ancient res publica of rome through the medieval renaissance and modern eras to demonstrate the continuity of its conceptual reworking in every political and legal form of power established at every latitude of europe up to the so called modern states of today s democratic and constitutional republics part three is a synthesis of the history of christianity from the events of the first communities formed in the imperial age and then spread to the whole of europe thanks to the evangelical action of the missionary monks and the policy of christianization of the peoples of europe conducted by the empire and the institutional church under the sign of the biblical eschatological vision of salvation for all believers in christ which has an evident jewish matrix and draws strength from the unique figure in human history of jesus of nazareth the story also deals with the events that have marked the history of the christian church in every era from the original conceptual controversies to imperial dogmatism from the confrontation between the different churches that arose in europe in the middle ages to the struggles between papacy and empire up to the protest and reformation that shaped the state of christian religiosity today part four is a cryptic narrative that seeks to unveil and thus end the evolutionary process underway european history by its cultural roots its founding myths and the journey of the european people inspired by a celtic metaphysical approach only by delving into the various mysteries collected in eastern greek cosmogony in ancient greco roman mythology in the biblical letter and again in the most famous medieval legends narrated by the chanson de geste can one translator alessandra cervetti publisher tektime negli ultimi tempi si è sviluppato un ampio dibattito politico sull'opportunità di una riforma istituzionale allo scopo di rivedere e modificare quelle parti della costituzione che alla luce dell'esperienza hanno rivelato difficoltà di funzionamento il problema non riguarderebbe anche se non tutti condividono quest'affermazione la prima parte della costituzione quella relativa alla definizione dei diritti dei doveri dei principi fondamentali dei rapporti civili economici e sociali ma la seconda parte quella relativa agli organi fondamentali dello stato alla struttura dei poteri all'equilibrio delle diverse funzioni un'eventuale riforma però se vuole essere rispettosa del patto sociale che ha originato la costituzione del 1948 non può prescindere da un'ampia maggioranza come quella che caratterizzò il voto del 22 dicembre 1947 in mancanza di tali condizioni infatti qualsiasi riforma potrebbe venire rigettata dal popolo com'è appunto accaduto nel recente passato
