americans love road trips they love to go on road trips they love to read about road trips they love to watch road trip stories unfold on television and film road trip stories are a consistent feature of the american landscape a central part of american mythology and an important piece of the american dream in the american road trip and american political thought susan mcwilliams argues that the american fascination with road trip stories is about more than mere escapism or wanderlust she shows in walking through stories like on the road and the grapes of wrath that american road trip stories are a key expression of american political thought they are not just stories of personal journeys they are stories of the american nation mcwilliams barndt shows how americans have long used road trip stories to raise and explore central questions about american politics in theory and practice they talk about freedom and equality and diversity and take those vaunted american ideals for a test drive american road trip stories
